STATEMENT OF THE TERMS OF ADMISSION, COURSE OF STUDY, &c.

TERMS OF ADMISSION.

For admission to the Freshman Class, candidates are examined in Andrews and Stoddard's Latin Grammar, Cicero's Select Orations, Virgil, Sallust, Goodrich's or Sophocles' Greek Grammar, Jacob's Greek Reader or an equivalent, Latin Prosody, Writing Latin, Arithmetic and Geography.

To insure a correct pronunciation of Latin, candidates should early be made familiar with the rules contained, under the article "ORTHOEPY," in the Grammar. A particular attention to Latin Prosody and Scanning, in connection with the study of Virgil, is also regarded as important. For writing Latin the use of Andrews's Latin Exercises is recommended.

Students may be admitted to an advanced standing, provided that, in addition to the requisites for admission to the Freshman Class, they are found on examination thoroughly acquainted with the several studies of the class which they propose to join. It is however highly important to the unity and completeness of a public education, that the student should enter College at the commencement of the course. The disadvantages incurred by those who postpone joining the Institution to a later period are much more serious than is commonly supposed. Every student admitted to an advanced standing, (with the exception of those who come from other Colleges,) is required to pay a fee of $5.00, if he enter after the expiration of the fall term of the Freshman year; and of $10,00, if after the expiration of the fall term of the Sophomore year.

All candidates for admission to this College, must bring a certificate of good moral character; and, if from another College, of their regular dismissal and good standing. When a young man has been examined and admitted to College, he is required to attend the prescribed exercises, and is subject to the laws of the Institution. He is also required to give a bond to the Treasurer with sufficient surety, for the payment of his College bills.

SESSIONS OR TERMS.

The FALL TERM commences at the close of the Summer vacation, and extends to the last Wednesday in November.— The WINTER TERM extends from the first Wednesday in December to the second Wednesday in February. WINTER TERM.

As a portion of the students are under the necessity of teaching school three months in a year, the studies of the winter term are so arranged as not to interfere with their regular College course; nor interrupt the study and retard the improvement of those students who are not obliged to teach. During this term, all those students who are not excused for the purpose of teaching, and not actually engaged in that employment are required to be present, and attend on two exercises, either lectures or recitations, each day, the Sabbath and Saturday afternoon excepted, when attendance on the usual religious exercises alone is required.

The following studies are designated for the winter term, from which a selection is annually made for the current year, and duly announced in the chapel.

For the First Division, composed of Seniors and Juniors.

- 1—Greek Tragedies—Prometheus of Æschylus and Antigone of Sophocles; Tacitus's Germany and Agricola; Leverett's Juvenal; Medea of Seneca; Captivi of Plautus; Quinctilian's Institutes.

DECLAMATION.

The Freshman Class are instructed through the year in the elements of elocution.

The Sophomore and Junior Classes speak in divisions in the chapel on Wednesday afternoon, and the members of the Senior Class in succession every Tuesday and Friday after evening prayers. In all cases, those who are to speak in the chapel are prepared for the exercise by previous rehearsal before the Professor of Rhetoric.

EXAMINATIONS.

There is a public examination at the close of each term, except the winter term. The examinations at the close of the fall and spring terms are confined to the studies of the term; that at the end of the year includes every branch of the whole preceding course of study, and a committee of gentlemen appointed for the purpose is invited to attend. The Seniors, as candidates for the degree of A. B., are likewise examined in the various branches of their college studies two weeks before Commencement.

PUBLIC PERFORMANCES.

The annual COMMENCEMENT is held on the third Wednesday in August. The exercises in Elocution for the Parkerian premiums are on the preceding evening.

There is an exhibition of the Junior Class on the day preceding the third Wednesday in May.

VACATIONS.

From Commencement four weeks.

From the last Wednesday in November one week.

From the second Wednesday in February two weeks.

From the third Wednesday in May two weeks.

WARREN AND LITERARY FUNDS.

The College is possessed of funds to the amount of four thousand dollars, the interest of which was directed by the donors to be applied to the assistance of meritorious students.

The income of the Warren Fund is distributed, in sums of from ten to thirty dollars, to three members of each class, who are qualifying themselves for the Gospel ministry, and whose attainments, deportment and circumstances, in the opinion of the Faculty, render them worthy of the appropriation.

The income of the Literary Fund is awarded, in sums of from ten to twenty-five dollars, to three members of College, whose scholarship and fidelity in the discharge of their duties may entitle them to such a distinction.

The avails of the Parkerian Fund are expended in premiums awarded to one or two individuals in each of the three lower classes, selected from those who speak in public the evening before Commencement.

EXPENSES.

The usual expenses of a liberal Education are considerably diminished in this College, by the ample library of the Beneficent Society, from which indigent students are gratuitously furnished with Text-Books, and other students, at a small expense.

The following statement embraces the principal expenses for each year, viz :

Tuition $5,	per quarter	$20
Room Rent $1,50 to $2,	"	7
Use of Library, 50 cents,	"	2
Repairs, sweeping, &c. $1,	"	4

Charge for extra expenses of Winter Term,		2
Board for	" "	15

PAYMENT OF BILLS.

At the close of the Quarter, on the third Wednesday of November, of February, of May, and of August, bills are made out, and put into the hands of the Treasurer for collection. If in any case payment is not made immediately, interest is required. And if any student suffers two bills to remain unpaid, without giving a satisfactory reason to the Treasurer, it becomes his duty to report the delinquency to the Faculty, and, if upon inquiry such delinquent student fails to give satisfactory reason for his neglect of payment, it becomes the duty of the Faculty to write to his parent or guardian, or deprive him of the privileges of the Institution.

To prevent any unnecessary expenses, as well as for other important purposes, it is recommended to parents to place their sons, especially if young, under the patronage of some gentleman in Middlebury, who will attend to the appropriation of their money, and the payment of their bills.
